

Keith's Corner/McGill News

November 17, 2023

Flagpole In The Circle

There is a flagpole in the Circle in McGill. It is just across the street from the General Office Building. It was recently refurbished and the beautiful American Stars and Stripes is flying again.

The McGill Town Council has been looking for some time to find a bucket truck that could reach the top of the flagpole. The flagpole is 84 feet high. The Young Electric Sign Co. or YESCO came to the rescue. Christi Long of YESCO did a superb job of coordinating the whole process. She arranged for the high flying YESCO boom truck with it's chief pilot, Travis, to do the job.

Travis and his high flyer.

Travis riding his rig to the top of the flagpole. He fixed a rope to the pulley and took this photo.

There is Old Glory flying in the usual McGill breeze.

Thank you YESCO. It is gestures like this and your remarkable employees, Christi and Travis, that make your business so successful.

And thank you, Cynthia Angelopoulos, Elaine Blackham and David Miller for getting Old Glory back in the McGill sky.

McGill New

Another exciting day at the Drugstore. The Nevada NPR came in and did an interview and some filming. It will appear in January or February on 'Outdoor Nevada'.

Old Photo

The mansion in late 1920s. I think the trees were planted in 1926. Looks like a windy day, even back then. Notice the playground equipment. I think all that stuff was taken up to the grade school. I remember the contraption on the far right.